Personal Services a Guide to the Australian Consumer Law

Cooling Off Period

By law, you have 10 business days to reconsider an unsolicited consumer agreement (contract). During this time, you can cancel the contract without penalty. This is called the ‘cooling off’ period.

- an agreement is considered to be unsolicited when:
- a supplier/salesperson approaches or telephones a consumer without that consumer having invited this contact;
- negotiations take place over the phone, or in person at a location other than the supplier’s premises; and
- the total value of the agreement is more than $100, or the value was not ascertainable at the time the agreement was made.

Further information regarding cooling off periods can be obtained from the Department of Commerce, Consumer Protection.

RTO or Third Party Closing or Ceasing to Deliver Training

Learner Support services

At the time of Enrolment, Time Critical ensures that potential course participants are aware of the recommended level of LLN required to undertake this course and the physical requirements to complete the practical assessment tasks. Training is delivered in such a way to allow for the practice of the necessary skills and underpinning knowledge required to complete the course. A number of different options are used to ensure this development occurs throughout the course.

Examples include:

- Introducing industry specific vocabulary, technical terminology, and mathematical concepts before presenting learning material
- Reinforcing critical reading tasks with verbal discussions and demonstrations
- Asking students to orally paraphrase what they have read to confirm understanding
- Familiarising students with workplace documents they will be expected to use
- Teaching 'ahead of time' any concepts or terminology students will be required to use in assessment
- Using analogies and examples drawn from everyday life to teach mathematical concepts and skills
- Integrating use of visual aids for the explanation of complex or unfamiliar concepts
- Using student's prior knowledge and experiences
- Continuously summarising, reviewing and linking throughout the course

Participants are invited to communicate any LLN (literacy, numeracy, English language or physical capabilities) or other support needs they have both prior to, and at the commencement of the course.

Successful navigation of the enrolment process prior to commencing the course indicates participants hold the minimum required foundation and LLN skills levels to undertake this course.

Individuals with a disability may complete this course, however, they must demonstrate that they meet the skills implicit to this award with competent demonstration of knowledge, experience, and practical skills.

Trainers are alerted to identify any participants requiring LLN assistance that may not have been identified during the enrolment process and to ensure they offer flexible opportunities to assist the participant in the completion of the course. Allowable adjustment will be implemented to secure fairness without jeopardising the integrity of the assessment process.

Participant Handbook	www.timecritical.com.au	Page 7 of 22
Jan 2021	RTO: 51503	v1.2

- Additional 1-on-1 training with Trainer and Assessor
- Provision of seating close to the facilitator/trainer
- Adjustments to the assessment environment

As standard procedure, Time Critical provide Participant resources in the following formats without jeopardising the integrity of the unit, language, or terms.

COURSE INFORMATION

Accredited Training Courses

Accredited courses are competency-based, which means that training and assessment focus on the development and recognition of a person's ability to apply relevant knowledge and skills to perform tasks to a specified standard.

The specific knowledge and skills required for a particular skill set are set out in Units of Competency which can be grouped together to formulate the completion of a nationally recognised qualification. Nationally recognised qualifications are outlined in Training Packages. These can be viewed at www.training.gov.au.

All Time Critical courses are accredited and nationally recognised.

Assessment

Assessments are designed to demonstrate participants have met the required standards of practice at the appropriate level and have achieved competency in accordance with the requirements. There are two methods of assessment:

1. Knowledge Assessments: completing a theory assessment, applying knowledge during skills assessments
2. Practical Skills Assessment: demonstrations of practical skills during scenario-based assessments.

Participants must be deemed competent in both methods of assessment in order to be awarded a Statement of Attainment.

The Facilitator/Assessor may design the assessment scenarios to suit the environment/industry the course is being delivered to. The scenarios will be fair and equitable for all participants, e.g., each participant will have the same opportunity to reach the desired outcome at the same skill base.

Competency

It is important to note that the rules and requirements of a Unit of Competency and a qualification are applied to all participants regardless of where they are, or the mode of training delivery provided.

Each Unit of Competency is made up of the following:

- Elements;
- Performance criteria;
- Required knowledge and skills;
- A range of variables;
- Critical aspects of evidence;
- Any pre or co-requisites (if applicable).

Levels of Competence

- Not Competent (NC) - the learner is assessed as not having achieved competence against one or more of the units of competency or elements of that unit/s.
- Competent (C) - the learner is assessed as having demonstrated competence against all units of competency and elements of competence.

To be deemed Competent in any Unit of Competency, you must be able to provide evidence of the required skills and knowledge to complete tasks to the standard that is required in the industry. Skills need to be demonstrated in a range of situations and environments (which could include simulated applications in a learning environment) over a period of time.

Evidence

Evidence is the material proof that you have performed the specified competency or task to the required standard. This may include any knowledge assessment you have completed either pre-course or on-course with your Trainer/Assessor. In the event that pre-course assessments are not completed by the time of your classroom training, then your Statement of Attainment will not be issued until such time that it has been done.

Your evidence of requirements will demonstrate that you have met the required standard of practice at the appropriate level and have achieved competency in accordance with requirements.

Principles of Assessment

Assessments will be conducted in accordance with the following principles of assessment.

Valid	Any assessment decision of the RTO is justified, based on the evidence of the performance of the individual learner. Validity requires: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Assessment against the unit/s of competency and the associated assessment requirement covers the broad range of knowledge and skills that are essential to competent performance;</li> <li>• Assessment of knowledge and skills is integrated with their practical application;</li> <li>• Assessment to be based on evidence that demonstrates that a learner could demonstrate this knowledge and skills in other similar situations; and</li> <li>• The judgement of competence is based on evidence of learner performance that is aligned to the unit/s of competency and associated assessments requirements.</li> </ul>
Reliable	Evidence presented for assessment is consistently interpreted, and assessment results are comparable irrespective of the assessor conducting the assessment.
Flexible	Assessment is flexible to the individual learner by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Reflecting the learner’s needs;</li> <li>• Assessing competencies held by the Learner no matter how or where they have been acquired; and</li> <li>• Drawing from a range of assessment methods and using those that are appropriate to the context, the unit of competency and associated assessment requirements, and the individual.</li> </ul>
Fair	The individual learner’s needs are considered in the assessment process. Where appropriate, reasonable adjustments are applied by the RTO to take into account the individual learner’s needs. The RTO informs the learner about the assessment process and provides the learner with the opportunity to challenge the result of the assessment and be reassessed if necessary

Rules of Evidence and Assessment

Time Critical is required to ensure that all evidence provided by participants, as proof of their competency, meets the following “rules of evidence”.

Valid	The assessor is assured that the learner has the knowledge, skills and attributes as described in the module or unit of competency and associated assessment requirements.
Sufficient	The assessor is assured that the quality, quantity and relevance of the assessment evidence enables a judgement to be made of a learner’s competency.
Authentic	The assessor is assured that the evidence presented for assessment is the learner’s own work.
Current	The assessor is assured that the assessment evidence demonstrates current competency.

Future Accessing of Records

If a student needs to obtain confirmation of their qualification and no longer has a copy of their certificate on record, they can email inquiries@timecritical.com.au, and an electronic copy will be forwarded to the student. A fee may be charged for this service.

Reasonable Adjustments

As a Registered Training Organisation (RTO), Time Critical must provide reasonable adjustment when assessing participants who have a disability or other identified particular need. It is a requirement of the Disability Discrimination Act that such adjustment be provided.

The points below are provided as examples of reasonable adjustment. The reasonable adjustment must be based on individual needs and abilities.

- It is a requirement of the Australian Resuscitation Council that CPR skills be assessed on a resuscitation manikin placed on the floor or firm surface. Assessment cannot be done by a candidate describing how to provide cardiopulmonary resuscitation or instruct another person to perform a skill.
- Some participants, particularly those with LLN challenges, may need to complete the theory assessment by oral questioning.

Reassessment

If the assessment requirements have not been met, participants will have the opportunity to be reassessed on the day. Alternatively, participants may contact Time Critical directly on (08) 9207 2900 or email inquiries@timecritical.com.au to organise a suitable date, time, and place for reassessment.

Certificates

Certificates can only be awarded by Time Critical in accordance with our approved qualification scope.

- Statement of Attainment (SOA) – issued under the Australian Qualification Framework (AQF) for nationally recognised training and issued when a participant is deemed competent in a unit of competency. Minimum achievement for an SOA is one unit of competency. You can request an SOA at any time during your training.

Statements of Attainment will be provided once all required course work has been completed, and the participant has been deemed competent.

- Certificate of Attendance – for non-nationally recognised training. They are issued when a participant attends a short course, which is not within the Australian qualifications framework (AQF). To receive a Certificate of Attendance, the participant must have a satisfactory attendance rate.

Certificates will only be issued in the event that:

- All required pre-course assessments have been completed
- The participant has provided a valid Unique Student Identifier (USI)
- All required information has been provided on the individual assessment packages
- The participants have been deemed competent in the unit of competency

Certificates will be sent electronically in .pdf format to participants nominated email address. The onus is on the participant to ensure their email address details are correct.

Certificates will only be sent to external parties (place of work), with prior permission from the participant.

The provision of training often includes a blended approach with a combination of theoretical knowledge and skills.

A number of delivery methods will be used throughout the training to help you achieve the necessary skills. Learning is a partnership that involves participation from all involved. Delivery methods may include, but are not limited to:

- practical demonstrations
- audio/visual presentations
- group participation/ discussions
- trainer/facilitator instruction
- practical activities
- on-line self-paced activities

Flexible Delivery

Flexible delivery focuses on learning, rather than teaching, and to provide the best possible learning experience for the participant.

Time Critical offers various forms of delivery to accommodate the varying needs of participants. Modes of delivery available for most courses include classroom (face-to-face) environment, on-line, Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) or a combination of these.

Recognition of Prior Learning Process

Recognition is a method of assessing if you have evidence of competency for a particular unit of competency that you are enrolled in. It is important to remember that Recognition is an assessment process, not an assumption of competence.

1. The participant makes an enquiry for RPL
2. Requirements for competency are explained by Trainer/Assessor:
  - a. by using Competency Judgement Record for unit
  - b. by participant providing originals or certified copies of evidence records
3. Trainer/Assessor sights original evidence and documents evidence or any gaps
4. Trainer/Assessor discusses actions required of RPL application including a timeline
5. If the participant is eligible for the Issuance of Certification documentation, then this can be completed

Please contact Time Critical on (08) 9207 2900 in the event that you would like to apply for RPL.

Mutual Recognition

Time Critical recognises the AQF qualifications and Statements of Attainment issued by other Registered Training Organisations (RTOs). This is commonly referred to as Mutual Recognition or Credit Transfer. Mutual recognition is applicable when a Statement of Attainment or qualification provided by a participant has the same national competency codes as those that form part of the training and assessment program within which the participant is enrolled or is intending to enrol. Participants are required to apply for Mutual Recognition. With Mutual Recognition participants are not required to undertake learning in the unit/s again, the participant is exempt.

Participant Handbook	www.timecritical.com.au	Page 12 of 22

Special Needs

Participants intending to enrol for training with the Time Critical are requested to advise us prior to enrolment if they have any physical or other impairment (e.g., English language, literacy or numeracy difficulties, dyslexia, etc.) which may adversely affect their ability to successfully undertake training and assessment.

Participants with disabilities or impairments are encouraged to discuss with Time Critical any 'special needs' and/or 'reasonable adjustments' to the study environment which they consider are necessary or would assist them in the performance of their studies. Time Critical, in collaboration with the participant, will assess the potential for the participant to successfully complete the training which may include flexible delivery options to optimise the ease and benefit of the participant's learning.

Trainers and Assessors

All Time Critical Trainers and Assessors hold the required Training and Assessment qualifications as specified by the Standards for Registered Organisations (SRO2015). All Trainers and Assessors have current and updated skills in their vocational areas of teaching with a track record of continuous professional development.

The participants, therefore, receive training that is up to date with current industry practices and regulations.

An appeals and reassessment process are an integral part of all training and assessment pathways leading to a nationally recognised qualification or Statement of Attainment under the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF).

- Participants have the right to lodge an appeal against an assessment decision if they feel they were unfairly treated during an assessment, and/or where they think the assessment decision is incorrect and they have grounds for an appeal.
- The principles of natural justice and procedural fairness are adopted at every stage of the appeal process.
- The appeals policy is available to the public by contacting Time Critical.
- The appellant can provide details of their appeal either verbally and/or in writing to Time Critical.
- All appeals must be lodged within 7 calendar days of the date of the assessment result notification to the participant.
- If the appeals process fails to resolve the appeal or the appellant is not satisfied with the outcome of the appeal, the matter will be referred to an independent third party for review, at the request of the appellant. All costs incurred for the third-party review will be advised to the appellant.
- Every appeal is heard by a suitably qualified independent assessor or panel, who will be asked to make an independent assessment of the application.
- All appeals are acknowledged in writing and finalised as soon as practicable.
- Time Critical may charge a fee for the appeals process where an external assessor is engaged. Should this be the case, all costs incurred will be advised to the appellant.
- If the appeal takes in excess of 60 calendar days to finalise Time Critical will inform the appellant in writing, providing the reasons why more than 60 calendar days are required. The appellant will also be provided with regular updates on the progress of the appeal.
- Time Critical strives to deal with appeal issues as soon as they emerge, in order to avoid further disruption or the need for a formal complaint process.
- All appeals will be handled 'In-Confidence' and will not affect or bias the progress of the participant in any current or future training.
